Our History

ORGAWEEK began its journey with a single goal – to deliver the finest organic ingredients from nature directly to kitchens around the world. From the start, we dedicated ourselves to crafting premium products using only pure, natural raw materials, carefully sourced from trusted farmers and growers. Our expertise grew year by year, allowing us to perfect the art of producing high-quality organic spices, vegetable powders, and herbs. With deep knowledge and passion, we developed a unique range that includes garlic powder, onion powder, tomato powder, mushroom powder, dried herbs, and fresh vegetables prepared with care. Each product is processed to preserve its original aroma, vibrant color, and authentic taste.

From small beginnings, ORGAWEEK evolved into a brand known for reliability and quality in the organic food market. We invested in modern production methods while respecting traditional techniques, ensuring that every batch meets the highest standards. By working closely with expert growers, we select the best harvests, ensuring that our products retain their natural richness from farm to table.

As the demand for healthier, chemical-free food increased, ORGAWEEK expanded its product range to meet the evolving tastes of customers in Europe and beyond. We introduced innovative packaging and storage solutions that maintain freshness, aroma, and color without the need for artificial preservatives. Our garlic and onion powders are celebrated for their strong, authentic flavor; our tomato and mushroom powders bring depth and natural sweetness to countless recipes. Dried herbs from ORGAWEEK add a burst of aroma to every dish, making cooking an experience full of natural pleasure.

Today, ORGAWEEK stands as a symbol of trust, tradition, and innovation in the organic food sector. Our philosophy remains unchanged: deliver pure, natural, and flavorful products that inspire healthy living. We continue to serve our loyal customers with pride, ensuring that every product carries the essence of nature's best. From the fertile fields where our ingredients grow to the carefully packed products on store shelves, ORGAWEEK is committed to excellence in every step of the journey.

Our Mission

At ORGAWEEK, our mission is to bring the purest organic flavors from nature directly to your table, combining tradition, innovation, and unmatched quality. In a market filled with choices, we stand out by offering a carefully curated selection of premium organic products that meet the highest standards of freshness and authenticity.

We believe that exceptional products begin with exceptional ingredients, which is why we work closely with trusted farmers and producers who share our commitment to sustainability. From garlic powder, onion powder, tomato powder, mushroom powder, to a variety of premium dried herbs and spices, every product we make reflects our passion for natural flavor.

What We Offer

We are more than a supplier - we are a partner dedicated to helping our clients succeed. Our core strengths include:

- Product Sourcing - Selecting the finest organic ingredients from trusted growers.
- Custom Blends - Creating tailored spice and powder mixes to meet client needs.
- Processing & Packaging - Maintaining natural aroma, color, and taste through careful handling.
- Strict Quality Control - Every batch tested to guarantee consistency and safety.
- Logistics & Delivery - Efficient distribution across Europe and beyond.
- Sustainability Commitment - Eco-friendly packaging and responsible sourcing practices.

Our Promise

We ensure that every ORGAWEEK product:

- Preserves authentic taste and natural freshness.
- Supports healthy lifestyles with chemical-free production.
- Meets modern culinary needs while respecting tradition.

Our mission is clear: to make pure, organic flavor accessible to all, while inspiring healthier living and protecting our planet.

Our Market

ORGAWEEK may be based in Turkey, but our reach extends far beyond. Thanks to a dynamic and flexible business structure, we are perfectly capable of meeting the demands of modern markets and adapting quickly to customer needs.

Our products are currently exported to many countries. Whether the importer chooses the guarantee of our brand or works with us to develop their own private label, we ensure the same commitment to quality and authenticity. Our major partners are located in Germany, France, Norway, Lithuania, and Poland. At the same time, other valuable collaborations – both within and outside the European Union – are developing in regions such as Hong Kong and the Middle East.

The majority of our clients are distributors, who often supply large-scale supermarket chains and retail networks. However, we apply the same passion and care when working with hotels, restaurants, and small specialty shops seeking premium organic products.

Being headquartered in Turkey gives us a unique advantage in logistics, allowing us to serve both European and Asian markets efficiently. From sourcing to final delivery, we ensure every shipment arrives fresh, safe, and on time. Our market presence is growing steadily, and our commitment to quality makes ORGAWEEK a trusted name across multiple regions.

The Selection of the Suppliers and Certificates

At the heart of ORGAWEEK's philosophy lies a deep commitment to the careful selection of suppliers and the highest standards of certification. With decades of experience in the organic food sector, we partner only with trusted producers who share our dedication to quality, sustainability, and authenticity. Every production facility we work with operates under internationally recognized certifications such as IFS and BRC, ensuring that our organic garlic powder, onion powder, tomato powder, mushroom powder, dried herbs, and spices are prepared with precision and care. Each process is carried out in full compliance with HACCP standards, guaranteeing food safety and consistent excellence.

Our work is guided by passion and precision. We taste, analyze, and inspect every batch before it reaches our customers, ensuring that the natural aroma, vibrant color, and authentic flavor of each ingredient are preserved. For us, selecting a supplier is not just about meeting requirements – it is about forming partnerships that share our vision of delivering pure, natural products to markets worldwide.

Grazie a un magazzino grande siamo in grado di stoccare senza problemi grossi volumi di merce, sia per noi che per i nostri clienti. In caso di bisogno offriamo la possibilità di organizzare presso di noi il consolidamento della merce da caricare sul container, fungendo da hub logistico per le esportazioni.

Environmental responsibility is another cornerstone of ORGAWEEK's values. Our main warehouse in Turkey, covering an area of 1,500 m², is equipped with advanced solar panel systems capable of producing enough energy to cover the facility's entire operational needs. This approach allows us to minimize our environmental footprint while ensuring uninterrupted service to our partners.

Thanks to the size and efficiency of our warehouse, we are able to store significant quantities of goods while maintaining optimal conditions for freshness. In the case of imports, we offer our partners the ability to consolidate shipments directly at our premises, acting as a central logistics hub. This not only streamlines delivery times but also reduces costs, making ORGAWEEK a reliable partner from sourcing to final delivery.

Our dedication to quality, safety, and sustainability means that when you choose ORGAWEEK, you choose a brand that values every step of the process – from selecting the finest suppliers to delivering premium organic products that meet the highest international standards.
